REGIONAL COORDINATOR REPORT

By VADM Ruth Lane

Since the IC, the AB list has been extremely quiet. We have a call on October 11th to discuss new chief of Computer Programming, Fleet level and update on membership processing.

Some are having problems renewing and processing members, contact me to give me the details so we can find out what is going on.

We have a chapter-in-training that should be launched any minute now, the USS Luna out of Grove City, Ohio.

Last month the Intrepid decided to quit FLEET.

VRC - PROGRAM OPERATIONS

By COMM Scott Gibson

Hello Everyone, welcome to this month's issue of Channel 1!

I'd like to take this opportunity to talk about communications. In particular, I'd like to encourage all of our Commanding Officers and First Officers in Region One to communicate information from the regional staff list and chat list to all of their crewmembers in their local chapters. We often have lots of great programs and opportunities for members within the region that are announced in our lists, (and in our newsletters, such as the Channel 01) that members in Region One need to be aware of. Especially with our chat and staff lists, the Commanding Officers and First Officers are our first point of contact between regional announcements and members on the local level. We depend on our XOs and COs to convey the information to their local memberships. Without your help, a lot of great positions go unfilled and a lot of opportunities are missed by very qualified regional members.

So please take the time to make sure that, if you read an announcement on a list or newsletter about a program or opportunity within the region, go ahead and share that with your fellow crewmembers on the local level. Your help will make everyone's STARFLEET experience that much more rewarding!

SVRC REPORT

By VADM Darlene Harper

First I would like to extend my sympathy to the family and friends of Gary "Tiny" Hollifield, Jr. I never had the privilege of meeting him in person but I enjoyed his friendship through emails and pictures.

Don't forget to fill out the Region One survey and return it to Matthew Miller, we are interested in everyone's ideas of what you like, what changes you would like to see, anything that needs to be added or subtracted and how you would improve the region. All suggestions will be read and reviewed.

With the Region Summit being in Indiana next year you might wish to make a side trip to Mitchell, Indiana to visit the museum honoring Gus Grissom, Mitchell was his home town.

SPACE CAMP

By VADM Darlene Harper

Did you know that space camp is a year round learning camp? They have different types of camp stays that you match the interest of the child to the camp they wish to attend from aviation to robotics. Several current and former astronauts attended space camp when they were younger as did some members of Starfleet.

If you would like to see the things available for a space camp stay go to www.spacecamp.com.

As always we are looking for ways to raise funds to send a camper to camp, if you have any ideas just email me at captharper2002@yahoo.com.

A WORD FROM IC 2015

By LCDR Emilee Dockery

If you were looking for a reason to attend the R1-15 Summit, look no further! Bjo 'The Woman Who Saved Star Trek' Trimble has made a wonderful donation to our Auction! It's goodies she collected from ComicCon and other sorts J She can't make the Summit next year, but is sending a taped message for us to play during Welcoming Ceremony Friday night! Bjo is currently battling oppressive dry conditions in California; let's do our best to wish her much needed rain!

We need for all of you to help with the Risen Heroes Tribute:

Risen Heroes Tribute

The USS Indiana is proud to present the 'Risen Heroes' vigil on Saturday April 11th, 2015. This program is to honor the past members of Region 1. We need photos for our tribute. Please send us your pictures with the Heroes name, rank, dates if available and also include a small tribute to his or her life. You can send them through email or message them to us via Facebook.

And here's the wonderful contest that we've got set for you to participate in:

Fusion Video Contest

A new Summit deserves a new Video Contest! Present the history of Star Trek during the Welcome Ceremony! We want YOU to make your ship's video based off of Billy Joel's 'We Didn't Start the Fire' infusing Star Trek's history into the song. Go ahead and change the chorus too, change all the lyrics to fit your song; however the beat stays the same! Ah, that's the catch, the lyrics change, the song does not J Use all the years of Star Trek history and come up with one bangin' chronological video! Prize will be a (movie theater) gift card awarded on Sunday, so don't skip out early!

Vics 'Federations Got Talent' Showcase!

In the sitting room of the Billionaire Bruce of Botchok's manor sits Billionaire Bruce and his sidekick, Dastardly DaiMon Dick. They contemplate the Federation's latest attempt at entertaining the civvies.

"Holy star-search, Billionaire Bruce! The Hew-mons have a microphone... and a stage!"

"Calm yourself, DaiMon Dick, remember, the contestants must follow the rules or be eliminated."

"Gosh, you're right! The Hew-mons must have a maximum number of 1 to 5 bodies of mostly water to even step foot on stage!"

"And the hopeful aspirants have only four minuets to impress the judges Friday night."

"Then the top three acts will be announced Saturday morning during the Opening Briefing!"

"The contestants must play for no longer than eight minuets Saturday night, impress the judges and win that glorious trophy!"

"What trophy Billionaire Bruce? You mean there's more than one?"

"The only one, DaiMon Dick, the one that will be presented Sunday morning to the winners!"

DiaMon Dick holds a strip of gold pressed latinum, and then looks at Billionaire Bruce.

"Holy Smelter, Billionaire Bruce...I'll go order another one!"

Scotty's "Miracle" Duck Race:

We don't have a lazy river at the hotel, so put your brain on display in order to win Scotty's Duck Race! Contestants: you will have to propel your solid plastic weighted duck across the swimming pool using your ingenuity. The prize to be handed out Sunday will be a Home Depot gift card, so don't skip out early!

Disco Costume contest:

Ladies and Gents take your threads to the max down at our Disco Dance and win some serious bread. Prizes will be awarded for best dance wear and most authentic 70's look! Two sweet lookin' trophies will be given out on Sunday, so don't skip out early!

Kit-bash your way to model glory by creating your own original designed starship! Put your fantasy ship on display for all to see and vote on! Voting will start Friday evening and the votes will be tallied Sunday morning, so don't skip out early!

Bandwagon Contest:

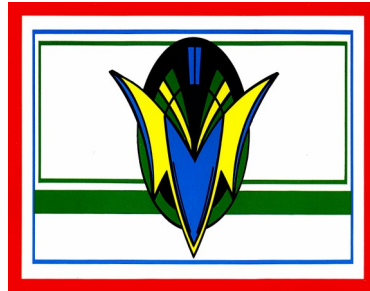

We appreciate the long hauls you have to drive to reach the Summit! So, enter to win a gas card by submitting in the millage you put on your car to reach us! Sign up at the Ops table in the front lobby. Prize will be a gas card awarded on Sunday, so don't skip out early!

THE TRIMBLE PROJECT

By FCAPT Carnell Eubanks

Priority One Message to all ships and stations:

A temporal surge has been detected in the Guardian of Forever. The focal point of the disruption appears to center on events beginning on Sept. 8, 1966 and radiating outwards. The temporal waves are predicted to be at their maximum in two years, Star-Date 201609.08. In trying to gain as much insight into this event as possible, the Trimble Project has been initiated.

Greetings from the bridge of the U.S.S. Star League. As you all are aware we are quickly approaching Star Trek's fiftieth anniversary. What many of you may not know, within the ranks of STARFLEET we have two distinguished members, John and Bjo Trimble. They were there as the Starship Enterprise left space-dock for the first time and they were also there when studio executives considered canceling the show. Seeing the shows potential they began a letter writing campaign that saved the show.

Through the efforts of the USS Star League and Admiral Linda Smith of our fellow Region One chapter, the USS Heimdal, you, the members of STARFLEET have the opportunity to ask questions of the couple who were responsible for saving Star Trek. What we are requesting is that each chapter in STARFLEET submit two questions to be used in an interview with the Trimble's on their relationship with Star Trek, the fans and the ripples through history that the show has caused. The answers to your questions, if chosen, will be put in the Communiqué in a series of articles as we approach Star Trek's fiftieth's anniversary.

Please submit your questions to Linda Smith of the USS Heimdal (heimdalco@aol.com) or myself, Carnell Eubanks of the USS Star League (Darkon1@atlanticbb.net). Please help us take advantage of this opportunity and help create a mission log for future generations of Star trek fans.

REGION ONE SCIENCES REPORT

By VADM Richard Heim

Greetings Region One! Region One Sciences is going strong and I'm pleased to provide this report to Channel One.

Region One Sciences is here to provide a resource to R/1 ships and other interested members to learn about science through ship science department activities and have fun while you're at it! We have a web resource where you can find information about our program, science articles, and even a Chief Science Officer Handbook. The url for R/1 Sciences is:

<http://webpages.charter.net/alarich73/r1sci/R1Science.htm>

Starfleet Sciences, of which I'm Director, also has a wealth of resources at your disposal, and they can be found online at:

<http://webpages.charter.net/alarich73/sci/starfleet-sciences.html>

Region One Science Officers (and other interested members) are encouraged to subscribe to our listserve, which functions as our main communications mechanism. Instructions to do so can be found here:

<http://webpages.charter.net/alarich73/r1sci/R1Sci2.htm#r1list>

R/1 Chief Science Officers are also requested to send me a monthly summary of your science activities, discoveries of science news items, and science-related things you discuss, so that I receive them by around the 7th of each month. I'd be happy to hear from any member about science, besides just the CSOs! I can be reached by email at AlaricRH@charter.net or the old-fashioned way at: Richard Heim, P.O. Box 2072, Asheville, NC 28802.

One of the things I like to do is summarize science activities aboard R/1 ships' science departments for my monthly reports to RDC Program Director, BGN Rey Cordero. It's great to see what science activities the region's ships are doing! Following is from my September RDC report to BGN Cordero:

Cmdr. Michael Lewis, of the USS Heimdal, provided a number of scientific reports, including an article he has written ("Amateur Astronomy on a Budget") and reports by others ("NASA's new spacecraft will have a Star Trek-like cockpit", and a keynote address on The Uncertainty of Disbelief by the Chrysalis Institute).

Chief Science Officer, Commodore Janice Graham, received the Red Squad Member Award from the College of Fantasy Realm (August 9, 2014).

FCapt. Janet Wagoner, CSO of the USS Ohio, reported on the ship's August 9 away mission to the Hamburger Festival at Lock 3 in Akron, trying different burgers and treats. Janet added: "In the evening, we enjoyed a tribute band of 'Journey'. Sept. 6, the ship is participating in Operation Orange with the Akron Canton Food Bank. More in this mission next month."

USS Freedom CO, Cmdr. Heather Fikes, reported that the ship's new Chief Science Officer is Billy Stringer.

The August 16 regular monthly meeting of the USS Alaric was held at the South Buncombe Branch Library meeting room. The science education report included discussion of the purchase of the ISEE-3 (International Sun-Earth Explorer-3) spacecraft by the ISEE-3 Reboot Project (an unofficial group with support from the Skycorp company), and the latest progress of the European Space Agency's Rosetta probe mission to comet 67P / Churyumov-Gerasimenko. Regular officer and project reports included progress on preparation of the Star Trek comic book original artwork for auction as a fund-raiser, revision of the Alaric recruiting table tri-panel display, and plans for our recruiting table at the September Asheville Comics Expo. The meeting concluded with visitor Lance singing an original song he wrote for Stargate: Universe, and club members discussing Diane Duane's Star Trek novel, Swordhunt. On September 6, Alaric members gathered to discuss their recent away mission to DragonCon and shared pictures and mpg movies from the convention, then watched the movie Galaxy Quest and the Star Trek Continues episode, Fairest of Them All.

Certificate Authorities(CA) "These are vital." without these no HTTPS.

These were put in place around 98 when Netscape invented the HTTPS (SSL) protocol. You can thank them. Later they were consumed by AOL in 99.

Every browser has Certificates from the Certificate Authorities. Without these you would be able to use SSL/HTTPS. There are a lot of CAs in your browser even the DoD has 5 of them.

MD5 & SHA1: They are encryption protocols. These protocols are weaker and vulnerabilities have been found. This is one of the main reasons why Microsoft and Google are pushing the CAs to change to a newer encryption standard. Most companies purchase 3 year certificates.

They would have to be given new certificates with the updated encryption.

MD5 - Is old and should no longer be used. They are 2 CAs that have MD2.

SHA1, Currently in use but we can do better with SHA256. Some CAs are using SHA256 and above.

ALIEN AMBASSADOR CORPS

By FCAPT Curtis Bellman

My name is Curtis Bellman. (A.K.A. Curtis of Borg) I represent the Borg of Unimatrix Zero. I am also the RDC of the Region 1 Alien Ambassador Corps, As well as the XO of the USS Liberator. The reason for this letter is to let those in Region One know that we are accepting members into the AAC at this time. This is a role-playing group. We have been an on line role-playing group, for the last 10+ years. Our home is a Space Station named Unity. At this time we are in a rebuilding - updating mode. We are accepting and welcoming all species of the Star Trek universe at this time. Regular participation is the most important thing to being a member. Since we are a role-playing group any and all SFI things are left outside the door when we play. This includes SFI, Region One, Chapter and SFMC items. In the past we have held weekly chats. Also in the past our newsletter has been an award winner. As well winner of the fanzine contest.

Those wishing to not be an ambassador can decide to be a part by living on the station, or operating a shop.

This is an opportunity to leave the real world stresses behind and deal with the make believe world of Star Trek.

In the future we would like to try setting up an online database of the general knowledge of alien species. This will consist of species descriptions, religion, home planet, ships, weapons, foods, etc. But that will be sometime in the future.

Also we are looking to gather information on any Region 1 member that has an alien persona. Any Region 1 member is welcome to send in their persona so that we can add it to our database. Members may submit their information without joining the AAC.

This information should include but not be limited to.

Real name

Persona name

Persona species

Home planet

Current chapter

Current rank

A bio of their persona's life

As well as any other information they feel is necessary.

Should you or any members have any questions I can be reached at LiberatorXO@aol.com

Thank you for your time in this matter and for passing this information along to your members.

LEADER DOG EVENT

By FCAPT Carnell Eubanks

Much of Star Trek is about diversity and learning from each other to make a brighter future! On September thirteenth the crew of the The Star League continued our commitment to give back to the community in which we live by hosting the Meet A Leader Dog event in conjunction with our local library. With our guests from our fellow Region One chapter the U.S.S. Ronald McNair, Denise and Will James and their Leader dog symbionts Penny and Chip gave a wonderful presentation on the leader dog program, what is the proper protocol on interacting with them and the training involved. Some highlights of the things we and members of the public who attended learned:

How are the dogs trained?

Leader Dogs are educated in the same way as many pets—with lots of repetition and positive reinforcement. For the first year, they grow up in homes with volunteer puppy raisers. The raisers teach them basic obedience and expose them to the world. Leader Dogs then participate in four months of formal harness training with a professional guide dog mobility instructor. During this time, they learn guide dog skills such as stopping at curbs, avoiding obstacles and finding doors.

How does someone get a Leader Dog?

Prospective clients complete an application, submit medical and physical exam forms, and supply personal references. They also send us a 10–15 minute video of themselves walking in their home area, demonstrating independent travel and the ability to safely navigate lighted intersections and street crossings. This video is important not only because it lets us know if a prospective client's orientation and mobility skills are advanced enough to work successfully with a guide dog, but also because it allows our instructors to begin the matching process of selecting a dog with the right size, gait, experiences and temperament for each client.

How does a dog know where to go?

Leader Dogs rely on their handlers to know how to get to destinations. Sometimes when a team has frequently walked to a certain destination, the dog will remember the route.

What happens when a Leader Dog gets too old to continue working?

When a Leader Dog is no longer able to work in a safe and responsible fashion, it is time for it to "retire." Some people will choose to keep the dog in their home as a pet, while others will place their dog with family or friends.

LEADER DOGS
FOR THE BLIND

Can people take their Leader Dogs anywhere?

Any public place is accessible by a guide dog team. There are federal access laws that protect a guide dog handler and his or her canine partner from discrimination.

How do you become a Leader Dog instructor?

A three-year apprentice program at Leader Dogs for the Blind is required to become a guide dog mobility instructor (GDMI). During this time, apprentices attend in-class lectures and receive hands-on training alongside a seasoned GDMI.

What is a career changed dog?

When a dog is not able to serve as a Leader Dog, we refer to that dog as career changed. These are wonderful dogs that make terrific pets or service animals in a different field but are not well-suited to be guide dogs.

WHEN YOU MEET A WORKING GUIDE DOG TEAM

- As tempting as it may be to pet a guide dog, remember that this dog is responsible for leading someone who cannot see. The dog should never be distracted from that duty. A person's safety may depend on their dog's alertness and concentration.

- It is okay to ask someone if you may pet their guide. Many people enjoy introducing their dogs when they have the time. The dog's primary responsibility is to its blind partner and it is important that the dog not become solicitous.

- A guide dog should never be offered food or other distracting treats. Food rewards are used as a motivational and training tool by GDB both in our dog training and by our alumni with their working guide dogs, but those rewards are only given to the dogs by their handlers.

- Although guide dogs cannot read traffic signals, they are responsible for helping their handlers safely cross a street. Calling out to a guide dog or intentionally obstructing its path can be dangerous for the team as it could break the dog's concentration on its work.

- Listening for traffic flow has become harder for guide dog handlers due to quieter car engines and the increasing number of cars on the road. Please don't honk your horn or call out from your car to signal when it is safe to cross, which can be distracting and confusing. Be especially careful of pedestrians in crosswalks when turning right on red.

- It's not all work and no play for a guide dog. When they are not in harness, they are treated in much the same way as pets. However, for their safety they are only allowed to play with specific toys. Please don't offer them toys without first asking their handler's permission.

· In some situations, working with a guide dog may not be appropriate. Instead, the handler may prefer to take your arm just above the elbow and allow their dog to heel. Others will prefer to have their dog follow you. In this case, be sure to talk to the handler and not the dog when giving directions for turns.

· You may encounter a guide dog wearing a head collar, which is a humane training tool that helps a dog become calm and focused when distracted. The head collar is not a muzzle and is designed to permit the dog to fully open its mouth and can even be worn when the dog is eating, drinking, or playing.

Access laws in the U.S. and Canada, including the Americans with Disabilities Act, permit guide dogs to accompany their handlers anywhere the general public is allowed, including taxis and buses, restaurants, theaters, stores, schools, hotels, apartment and office buildings. Guide dogs are trained to stand, sit, or lie quietly in public places when not leading. A Very Special Thank You to Carlyon Irvin for arranging this event.

Meeting guest speaker was Dr. Mike Robinson, Professor of Communications Studies & Co-director of Popular Culture, Minor from Lynchburg College. Mike spoke to us about Pop Culture & Theories of Media Criticism. He also spoke about the psychology behind the creation of Star Trek – all films & series - & discussed the cultural phenomenon from a number of different views. He was informative & funny & kept everyone's attention for 90 minutes with his power point presentation, all of which was based on Star Trek & Trek references. He held a Q & A session after his presentation. Mike has been our guest before & he was so much fun...

on of our very best guests. Special thanks to Communications Chief, Glenda Blanks for lining Mike up for us.

Following Mike's presentation & refreshments there was a business meeting. The success of our 2014 public charity auction was discussed, everyone voted to do the auction again in 2015, voted to stay at the Holiday Inn for the event & we actually had 3 auction donations turned in at the meeting ... out earliest EVER. Carl will return again as auctioneer. We had 1/3 of our guests return their auction questionnaire & we went over those results at the meeting. All were favorable & positive & the only complaints were that the room was too cold.

We will be doing a fundraiser at Coldstone Creamery on September 26. Everyone received coupons to pass out to friends & family. The Heimdal will receive 30% of the price of every person's purchase who presents a Heimdal coupon (supplied by Coldstone) during the hours of 5 – 7 p.m. on that date. It's a fun (& FULFILLING) fundraiser.

All canned good donations are due in at the November meeting. The Heimdal has no chapter dues but asks everyone to bring one canned good a month & we make a Christmas donation plus a monetary donation to the Salvation Army Food Pantry.

We voted to enter a float in the Amherst Christmas Parade again this year. The parade theme is "Christmas in the South." We already have our idea, a place to do construction & enthusiasm.

We voted to continue sponsoring all of our previous charities & to add additional money to each one following our successful auction. We will also be sending another local student to Space Camp in the summer of 2015.

The Medical Department will once again be purchasing Christmas gifts for our 2 adopted Angel Tree children. Communications Dept. will once again be purchasing Christmas gifts for our 2 adopted senior citizens.

We discussed Starfleet membership price changes. One couple renewed at the meeting & 2 people joined.

We added the USS Republic in R/2 to our newsletter exchange list.

Our Space Camp student was the guest on the "Lynchburg Live" TV talk show telling the audience about her trip.

Heimdal sent a video to Starfleet's HAPPY video.

Last pool party & picnic the week following the auction was a huge success in spite of showers all day long. 4 members accepted the ALS Ice Bucket Challenge at the pool & raised money for a good cause.

CO Linda Smith was featured in the Community Spotlight section of the local newspaper last week. Parts of the interview centered on the Heimdal, Linda's breast cancer survival & the book she wrote that was published last year. It was a very positive article.

The October meeting will be our Annual Halloween Party & Costume Contest. Our November meeting guest speaker will be the student we sent to Space Camp this year, 13-year-old Kylie Holbrook.

Our Annual Christmas Party / covered dish dinner / Dirty Santa will be December 20.

Following the meeting, a brief Executive Committee Meeting was held to discuss & vote on purchasing a digital projector for the Heimdal. We find we need one frequently & have spent enough money renting one to have paid for one. The vote was unanimous to make the purchase. Security Chief, Carl Davis will find the best deal for us & is willing to keep it at his home.

Heimdal's Sick Bay is finally empty again.

This chapter & our members mean so very much to me.
